

Why Finance Department in Asia University

With the finance environment is changing rapidly, qualified managers should be able to cope with these changes effectively. We would like to provide the following training to students with the financial skills, such as global vision, innovative consciousness and business ethics.

We are also ranked as the first in Taiwan and the 16th in the world with the ranking of top twenty-five Financial Economics and finance Departments in 2019. To familiarize students with the theoretical and practical issues in financial management, we tend to focus more on enhancing their abilities in problem-solving and decision-making than on knowledge learning to meet the challenges from the financial markets.

- Availability of Fintech courses

Fintech nowadays has become a trending object in Finance field. Finance department in Asia University provides those kinds of courses that relate to Fintech. Improving students' ability to catch up with "what is" now will help fresh-graduated students to survive and outstand the others in finding jobs. Courses like Python are offered in Finance curriculum and become an elective course for students who have interest in it. We provide (1) Financial technology management curriculum and (2) Investment management curriculum for all the students.

- Internationalization class

Opportunity and ability to build a connection around the world is provided in our Finance department. International class was opened for approximately 5 years. It is included students from around the world: Indonesia, Vietnam, Mongolia, Nepal, Gambia, South Africa, and many others.

Students can increase their cross-culture communication ability which will become their advantages in the future and increase their cultural knowledges.

- Experienced professors

Professors in a university is like a main key determining both the success of that university and what kind of students they produce. Our professors are mostly an expert in this field. Sharing their experience and implement it as a class subject is helpful to help students understanding. Core points here are those professors teach in a kind way and explain every detail with patience.

- Dual-degree opportunities

Collaboration among universities will be one way in providing facilities for students to take different experience. Finance in Asia University is providing such facilities, for example we have dual degree program with UFE in Mongolia for students who are curious and have interest in Mongolia.

Got a bachelor's degree with one degree in Taiwan and another one in Mongolia is advantageous for students, they can combine both financial curricula to get a summary of difference in how the financial stuff is going between countries. Another exchange program is also offered both during the summer holiday or 4 months exchange in one semester.
